

MEETING OF MUCH INTEREST

Y. M. C. A. Workers from Louisville to Come to This City This Week.

Specialists in boys' work from the State headquarters of the Y. M. C. A., of Kentucky, at Louisville, will arrive in Mt. Sterling Friday of this week to conduct an institute in the interest of the moral and physical welfare of Mt. Sterling's boys.

The first meeting will be a "Father and Son" supper in the dining room at the Christian Church, Friday evening, March 27th, at 6 o'clock prompt. The price per plate will be 50 cents and it is hoped that every father in Mt. Sterling who has a boy from 13 to 20 years of age will be on hand with that boy. Men who are not fortunate enough to have boys of this age are requested to bring some other fellow's boy and buy his supper. This should be a splendid occasion and is for the purpose of bringing about a better understanding between fathers and sons, and

MRS. STEWART TO LECTURE

Founder of "Moonlight Schools" to Speak in This City Friday Night.

Mrs. Cora Wilcox Stewart, founder of the "moonlight schools," who is making a lecture tour through Kentucky in the interest of education will speak in this city Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Court House. Mrs. Stewart comes here under the auspices of the Federation of Womens' Club.

Mrs. Stewart is recognized as one of the smartest women in the State and her lecture is sure to be instructive as well as entertaining.

An admission of 25 cents will be charged.

sage that will be worth the hearing.

On Sunday the pulpits of the Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist and Christian Churches will be filled by speakers from the Louisville office of the Y. M. C. A. These men will make addresses in the interest of boys' work in our city.

On Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the Methodist Church there will be a mass meeting of men and women to discuss plans for handling the Mt. Sterling situation as regards boys' work. At the same hour at the Presbyterian Church Mr. Harris will address the boys on the subject, "The Inside of a Boy."

On Sunday evening at 7 o'clock at the Baptist Church there will be a union meeting of the boys and grown people and an illustrated lecture on "Some Successful Forms of Boys' Work."

If we are to expect our boys to become men, men of sterling worth, let's get together as men and women of Mt. Sterling, get behind this institute, co-operate with the gentlemen from Louisville and make the institute a brilliant success.

If there are men who expect to attend the "Father and Son" supper and bring a boy, that is, men who have not signified their intentions to attend will notify the chairman of the committee on arrangements, W. H. Strossman, Jr., not later than Wednesday noon, March 25th.

EFFECT OF INSURANCE SUSPENSION WILL BE FELT BY EVERYONE

Experience of Missouri last year shows what Kentucky may expect and the great loss it will entail to the business and laboring man.

Fire insurance companies doing business in Kentucky have been forced to suspend writing because of the enactment of the Glenn-Greene bill, under which they claim that it is impossible for them to do business with safety or profit. This withdrawal of insurance protection will have a very material effect upon the business, credit and prosperity of the state. In view of this a review of what happened in Missouri, where the fire insurance companies were forced to suspend operations last year because of similarly obnoxious legislation, is of interest.

The general result in Missouri was to restrict commercial credits, check the making of loans and mortgages, divert business from the state, lessen business activities and throw labor out of employment. The evil effects in Kentucky threaten to be more serious and immediate than in Missouri. In the latter state the companies gave several weeks notice of their intention to stop writing on a given day, and the commercial interests had time to protect all their insurance requirements for several months to come, although this frequently involved double insurance. In Kentucky, however, the bill pending in the legislature, imposing a heavy penalty upon insurance companies for suspending the writing of business, made it unsafe for them to give this advance notice, and their suspension was immediate.

The first effect of the suspension in Missouri, as it probably will be in Kentucky, was to affect commercial credits. Fire insurance is the basis of commercial credit, the wholesalers and manufacturers insisting that their goods unpaid for in the hands of retailers must be protected by sound fire insurance. As soon as the wholesalers found that this insurance protection was endangered they reduced their lines of credit and insisted upon immediate payment. The important banks, life insurance companies, and other money-lending interests stopped negotiations for loans and mortgages because the property upon which their money was secured could not be protected with insurance, and gave notice that existing loans would not be renewed. The result was that building operations in the large cities of Missouri, amounting to millions of dollars, was stopped until the insurance suspension was ended, with losses all down the line to contractors, supply men and thousands of workmen and building laborers.

Dealers in grain, cotton, tobacco, whiskey and warehouse produce, who had been accustomed to get loans from banks on bills of lading, accompanied by insurance policies, were unable to get such accommodation, and in consequence enormous quantities of such staples were taken out of the state or diverted from their usual destination.

In addition to the effect upon large and important business enterprises, the small householder, who requires a loan protected by an insurance policy to build his home or protect his mortgage, was unable to secure protection. In consequence building permits fell off sharply, and all supply and labor interests were affected. The fire insurance patrols, fire prevention association and other bodies dependent upon insurance taxation were forced to suspend and withhold their protection and service to the public.

The insurance agents, who are usually among the desirable citizens in every community, were deprived of their income and livelihood during the period of suspension.

A great deal of property was burned on which the insurance had expired and could not be renewed, resulting in a total loss to the property-owner. In consequence the buildings and stocks were not promptly replaced, as would have been possible had they been insured.

Because of these and many other reasons, and because the state was getting an unenviable reputation throughout the country as hostile to business interests, the leading commercial organizations of Missouri made every effort to secure a correction of conditions. The State Bankers' Association, associations of commerce and commercial clubs of St. Louis and Kansas City and scores of other cities, and influential individuals petitioned the governor to call a special session of the legislature to repeal the obnoxious law. The protests of the business interests, forced by their necessities, finally became so strong that the state arranged a compromise with the insurance companies, under which they were enabled to resume business with safety. Under this compromise the attorney general declared void and illegal the specially obnoxious feature of the Orr law, the suits begun by the state were dropped, and a commission was appointed by the governor to formulate a new and up-to-date code of insurance laws for the state, which would secure the desirable end of lower rates by reducing the fires which are the basis of rates, instead of enacting laws which merely increase the cost of insurance.

GOES TO LAST REWARD

Mrs. Millie Jane Stephens, Wife of Mr. J. Q. Stephens Dies Saturday.

On Saturday, March the 21st, due to the infirmities of age, Mrs. Millie Jane Stephens, wife of James Quisenberry Stephens, passed to her reward.

Mrs. Stephens was 84 years old the past October and had been married for more than 66 years. To them had been born 11 children, 6 of whom Mrs. William Taylor and Mrs. John E. James, of Bushton, Ill.; Mr. John L. Stephens, of Charleston, Ill.; Mrs. John F. Richardson, W. Q. and C. B. Stephens, together with her husband survive. Funeral services were held at the residence, Monday, March 23rd, conducted by Rev. B. W. Trimble and the remains laid to rest in Machpelah cemetery.

Her posterity consisted of 11 children, 27 grand-children and 30 great grand-children.

Since a mere child Mrs. Stephens had been a member of the Sycamore Christian Church, this county. She possessed the true elements of the Saints in Christ, having exercised repentance towards God and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and her beautiful life and obedience were evidences of her sincerity in the everlasting salvation of His elect. Her children are living exponents of the true Christian mother as also are her grand-children and great grand-children. Her devotion to her family and more especially to her aged and sightless husband was without a parallel and she held to life, wanting the twain to pass together. It has been said that woman excels man in humility, gentleness, modesty and in endurance, but these lives were without perceptible distinction; loyalty, gentleness and loveliness being their common heritage.

The bridge between these two saints will soon be passed and they, with others of the redeemed will be a re-united family.

SENATORIAL CONTEST

Seems to be Between Beckham and Stanley with McCreary a Poor Third.

Although the election is several months away the Senatorial contest is causing considerable talk. Both Beckham and Stanley have made several speeches that have made the "fur fly."

As yet Gov. McCreary or Congressman Smith the other two announced candidates have made no speeches and it is predicted that neither one will finish out the race. In commenting on the race in the Lexington Herald John Sherman, the well-known political writer said in part: "Before the end of the campaign those who believe in the control of the Democratic party by the liquor interests are likely to be found lined up behind Mr. Stanley, and those who believe in the regulation of the liquor business, or in its ultimate destruction if it will not be decent, behind Mr. Beckham. The result of such a contest ought not be in doubt for a minute in any American Commonwealth."

Mr. Stanley will speak in this city next Saturday.

STATE UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB

The Boys' Club of the Mt. Sterling High School has just closed a contract with the State University Glee Club for a concert in this city, Friday night, April 3rd.

The program which is to be given here was presented at the Lexington Opera House and the Lexington papers pronounced it by far the best concert ever given in that city by amateur performers. In addition to the regular numbers the program includes several high class specialties.

Hoffman—Insurance

Established in 1847—nearly three quarters of a century ago—having furnished the citizens of this and adjoining counties with the VERY BEST of Insurance protection during all of that time—we now find ourselves in the control of Politics, laws being passed at this session of the Legislature which are so drastic that the companies we have had the honor to represent can no longer remain in the State and have, for the time being at least, (or until conditions can be changed so that they can operate,) have ceased business. If conditions are not changed we deplore the outcome; not only for the harm it will do OUR business, which we have always endeavored to conduct in the most honest and businesslike manner, but the outcome to many of our friends and old customers, who, in event of a fire, without insurance, would be even worse off than we, ourselves, is something to cause us considerable worry and concern.

We shall continue to conduct ourselves in a manner befitting the position in which we have been placed in this community. We shall not engage in a political warfare, our business being INSURANCE

CHEATING OLD DEATH OUT OF HIS HARVEST

The Secret of the World-Wide War Against the Drink Habit.

When Emperor William came out boldly as the foe of drink, the Old World rubbed its eyes in astonishment. It wasn't many months thereafter until Russia officially opened fire on liquor. The reasons may be seen in a recent finding of a commission appointed by the German Government, which reported that 43 per cent. of the children of excessive drinkers die within a few months of their birth and of those who live 10 per cent. are idiots, 8 per cent. epileptics, 8 per cent. dwarfs and only 17 per cent. normally intelligent.

This is the harvest of drink, which the Neal Treatment will prevent. The Australian Government stole a march on civilization when Dr. Neal's simple vegetable remedy was officially endorsed and the plan of saving, rather than punishing drunkards was inaugurated. Cincinnati has one of over three-score Neal Institutes found in the United States, Canada and Australia. The old homestead of Capt. C. M. Holloway in occupied. Victims of drink are tenderly cared for there. They are treated like guests and given every medical attention needed by those whose systems are saturated with alcoholic poison. The Neal Treatment knocks out all this poison in three days. It means longer life, better health, greater efficiency, more happiness and increased earning power, just to take the Neal Treatment.

Investigate or ask your own physician, in whom you have all confidence, to do this for you. There is absolutely no publicity. For booklet, write The Neal Institute, 601 Maple avenue, Cincinnati, O., telephone Avon 4020. Other Ohio Neal Institutes at Columbus and Cleveland.

SPECIAL OFFER TO OUR CUSTOMERS ONLY

How to get the maximum value out of the money you pay for electricity will be fully explained by Mr. N. R. Chase, Lighting Specialist, from the Edison Lamp Works, who will be in Mt. Sterling this week. Mr. Chase will be assisted by our salesman, Mr. W. S. Glass. This is a rare opportunity to secure the services of a specialist free for the asking. Avail yourself of this opportunity. Phone or write us today and we will have him call at your residence or store.

Are you getting the maximum value out of the money you pay for electricity? Are you using the proper lamps? There are two kinds of lamps manufactured at the present time, viz: The Gem Lamp and the Mazda Lamp. The Gem Lamp costs less, but are twice as expensive as the Mazda Lamp in the end because the Gem Lamp consumes twice as much electricity as the Mazda Lamp at the same candle power. The Edison Mazda Lamp has been greatly improved. The drawn wire filaments are quite durable and can be burned at any angle. Lamps sold by us are known as the SUN'S ONLY RIVAL, Edison Brand, and are the best money can buy.

FRECKLES

February And March Worst Months For This Trouble—
How To Remove Easily

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in February and March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of othine, double strength, from W. S. Lloyd and apply a little of it night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they may stay all summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if othine fails.— 38

CLIPPINGS FROM THE SNAGTOWN TORCHLIGHT

"Dad" Lindsay, foreman of the Torchlight got on a "toot" last week, and in making up the forms got the wedding notice of Miss Willie Gill and Al Gunther scrambled up with an auction notice of Colonel Clark. Part of the notice reads as follows: Mr. Al Gunther and Miss Willye Gill were disposed of at public sale on my farm one mile east, in the presence of seventy guests, including two mules and twelve head of cattle. Judge Barnett, justice of the peace and editor of the Torchlight, tied the nuptial knot for the parties averaging 1,250 pounds on the hoof. The beautiful home of the bride was decorated with one sulky rake, one feed grinder and two sets of work harness, nearly new, and just before the ceremony was pronounced the Mendel & Sons wedding march was rendered by one milch cow, 5 years old, one Jersey cow and one sheep, who carrying a bunch of bridal roses in her hand, was beautiful. She wore one light spring wagon, two crates of apples, three racks of hay and one grindstone of muslin de soie and trimmed with about one hundred bushels of spuds. The bridal couple left yesterday for an extended trip. Terms spot cash.

Jimmie McManus was shot in the northeast corner of the county one night last week.

Mr. Will St. Aubin of Plunkville is erecting a fine building in Snagtown and will install machinery for the manufacture of "near-beer." Welcome to our city, St. Aubin "old top."

Six couples were married by Squire Wilson Sabbath evening at the parsonage. It is said that all six couples started their love-making at the White Sulphur revival, which broke Sunday night.

The old terrapin-eyed goat who runs the Plunkville Patriot is always throwing the game of poker at our unoffending head. We want to say once for all that we don't know the game. If we had known it, we would be richer at this writing, by a house and lot, a gold watch and chain, and a real diamond stud.

All things come to him who waits. The editor of the Torchlight is serving on the jury at $2 per day, but he asks his creditors for the Lord's sake be patient yet a little while, and don't crowd a man when he's up.

NOTICE.—Guests of the Cliff Roost House are hereby notified that when they come in late and retire on the pool table, to remove their boots and be as quiet as possible. Also not to use the corner pockets of the pool table to put their false teeth in. Geo. Beauregard Barrow, Prop.

Every time we try to have Shakespeare in Snagtown something happens to hurt the harmony of him. It's so unfortunate! But we have no real scenery, and are so compelled to make the best of the home-made variety: Then, too, everybody wants to play the star parts, as was the case recently, when we put on "Hamlet." There was a feud between Harry Lannigan who played the ghost and Colonel Walter Ebel who played Hamlet, because the ghost wanted to play his part, and the ghost, in a spirit of revenge, addressed Hamlet as "Ham Meat," whenever it had occasion to call his name. Hamlet finally becoming so angry that he up and lammed the ghost side the head with a lawnmower! Of course that broke up the show. It seems that the people of this town can't be harmonious on anything except the question of moving the moonshine stills three miles nearer town. Alas, that it should be so.

A total stranger passed through Snagtown yesterday tacking up some soap advertisements. Several of our leading citizens, including the postmaster took exceptions to this suggestion, and ordered the man to move on.

A mule over which circumstances had no control, ran away with Miss Clara Henstep this morning. Jimmie McManus has been trying to do this same thing for several months.

Dr. Bush says that 4-year-old whiskey can be made in forty minutes, and we have no doubt that it can; but that would be a long time for the thirsty to wait in this section. A man pursued by 40-foot alligators and six-headed snakes wouldn't have time. He would naturally be in a hurry. Forty minutes indeed! Why when a man wants booze around here all he has to do is to stand by the right stump and bellow, and before the echo of his own voice gets back to him the booze is down him!

Home killed meats, nothing better.

THIS NEW KIND OF

Motorcycle

CAN BE USED ALL WINTER

If you buy a Two-Speed Yale Motorcycle you can ride it all through the winter as well as during the months of good weather, for there is a machine of such great ability that it will do work that was impossible with the older types. With tremendous reserve power of the Two-Speed Yale you can plow through the deepest snowdrifts without trouble. The low center of gravity and perfect balance make it easy to handle on bad roads, and the big three-inch (automobile size) studded tire grip the snowy or ice covered road surfaces firmly and make control safe and sure. True, the old kind of motorcycles couldn't do this—most riders stored their machines till springtime—but the new Two-Speed Yale is a machine for use all the year round, under all conditions.

Maysville Street.

Last fall we repeatedly advised our city authorities not to accept the work on Maysville street until an opportunity had been had to carefully examine it, to see if the work was according to contract. In doing this, we were not seeking to do the contractors an injustice. On the contrary, we want to see them treated fairly, but one of the missions of a newspaper, as we understand it, is to have a care for the public's interest.

Since that time we have repeatedly heard it said that the street is showing defects and is not holding up as it should and we therefore want to again call the subject to the attention of those upon whom rests the responsibility of seeing that the citizens are protected and to again urge that the work be not accepted until it is shown conclusively that the taxpayers will receive full value for their money.

Lend a Hand.

These are days of action and big things. Men everywhere, are realizing, as never before, that the clean life is the only happy life that it is both the right and manly thing to stand out boldly for anything that has as its aim the betterment of society and everyday life.

Next Friday evening a Y. M. C. A. movement will be inaugurated here. Its object, broadly stated, is to provide our young people with plenty of wholesome fun and at the same time improve them morally, physically and mentally. If you are interested in such an up-life movement, attend one of these meetings and prove your sincerity by your works.

With all due respect to the members of our local fire department, in our judgment one of our city's greatest needs, is a man of average ability, who understands thoroughly the correct use of a chemical for the extinguishment of fires. We have often seen a great loss occasioned almost entirely by water, while the actual damage by fire was very slight and we make this suggestion, not by way of criticism, but in the hope that it will be the means of awakening an interest in the subject.

In order to live up to Mt. Sterling's reputation for doing things, when it takes a notion, while the Louisville delegation quarrelled among themselves, our Senator and Representative quietly put our Commission Plan bill through both Houses unanimously and the Governor has clinched it by affixing his signature.

Judging from the country press of the State, the Federal machine is coming in contact with snags at every turn in the road.

HOFFMAN'S INSURANCE AGENCY

Mt. Sterling, Ky.

March 24, 1914.

To my Friends, Customers
and the Insuring Public:

I have been asked by a number of people to give an expression regarding the present conditions of affairs as regards fire insurance in the State and, having nothing else to do, (having been "put out of commission" by the passage of this Greene-Glen Bill), I hope that I may be pardoned for this lengthy explanation but which I feel due the public, my friends and customers, that they may know just exactly my attitude in the matter.

I could study for months and then write, or address you on this subject and could not do so more ably than has been done by the WINCHESTER SUN in its issue of March 23, 1914, and which I quote below:

Reply to Bosworth's Statement

Mr. Henry M. Bosworth, State Auditor, has mailed throughout the State, a letter setting forth his views of the insurance bill recently passed, known as the Glenn-Green Bill. The letter is very plausible at first glance, but when studied is so vulnerable that it almost seems a waste of time to call attention to it, but for fear that some may read it carelessly or may accept hearsay reports, we feel it a duty, which we owe to our readers, to call attention of one or two of its deceptive statements.

Mr. Bosworth is very much delighted with the bill but thinks it a very mean trick on the part of the insurance companies to withdraw, and thus leave him and his Rating Board and the advocates of the measure, in a sad plight before the people, and, especially the voters of the State. His attitude in this respect reminds us very much of little Johnny, who was hitting little Willie on the head with the hammer. His mother called to him and asked him what he was doing, to which Johnny replied: "Nothing, mother, 'cept hitting Willie on the head with the hammer and he won't stand still, but hollers every time I do it." Mr. Bosworth thinks it equally inconsiderate on the part of the insurance company in getting out of reach of his sledge hammer.

We do not have the figures for the 43 years, of which Mr. Bosworth speaks, but they show from his own statements that the companies have lost and are still losing money in this State. He says that the loss ratio in Kentucky during that time was 56 cents, which means that the companies paid out in losses 56 cents for every dollar they received in premiums. But Mr. Bosworth did not take the next step and say to the people of this State that the expense ratio during that time was between 42 and 43 cents, which means that the companies, for every dollar of premium they collected, had to pay out from 42 cents to 43 cents in expenses. It is easily seen that, with the loss ratio added to the expense ratio, the companies have failed to make anything on their investment.

Mr. Bosworth also failed to state that this expense ratio included the commissions which averaged about 20 cents on the dollar, paid by the companies to their agents; city and State license and taxes; salaries to adjusters and special agents, and special taxes paid to support the Insurance Rating Board. It is readily seen that the commissions to agents and salaries to State adjusters were paid to home people—Kentuckians—and by them spent with our merchants for clothing, provisions and other necessities. The 56 per cent. paid for losses was paid to our home people, and the balance for taxes, licenses, etc., to the State, so that we fail to see where the insurance companies have taken anything out of the State, though Mr. Bosworth sneaks of the "enormous profits" which the companies have taken out of the State.

As above stated we do not have the figures for the 43 years of which he speaks, but we do have the figures for 32 years, that is from 1880 to 1912, and the loss ratio for that time in Kentucky was 58.4 and the figures for the last five years, 1908 to 1912, inclusive, shows that the loss ratio was 59.7 and the expense ratio 42 cents, so that during the past five years, not including the year 1913, the companies have returned $101.70 for every $100 of premiums collected and it is estimated that the expense ratio for 1913, will be 43 per cent., the increased cost being caused largely by reason of the work required by the State Insurance Board, which was created by law in 1912 and to which the companies were required, by law, to pay $25,000 for its support. It is estimated that the loss ratio for 1913 will be 67 per cent., which shows that during the year 1913 the companies have returned $1.10 for every $1.00 of premium collected. Under such a showing as this, would any sane business man continue operating his business with the Legislature enacting a law saying to him, we have been regulating rates for two years and have succeeded in causing you to lose much money, but we are not satisfied; we not only want to regulate your rates, but we want to control the rates and shall give to the Rating Board the authority to make a flat percentage reduction on any class of property and at any time. That is what the new law says, and that is the law, which Mr. Bosworth approves.

The result of that bill being enacted into law has caused practically every company to withdraw from Kentucky and inside of sixty days, it will be almost impossible for any insurer to secure insurance.

Mr. Bosworth failed to state that the amount of insurance carried in 1912 in the State of Kentucky, in the companies which have now withdrawn from the State, was $398,690,131. Where will the people, who own this property, secure this insurance, now that the companies have withdrawn from the State? These companies have been fifty years, or more, building up their business and we know, as does every business man, that they would not leave this business, tear down their agencies, which they have been years in constructing and retire from the field, unless conditions were so intolerable as to absolutely force them to that position. We know the people of Kentucky want insurance and they must have it. We know that people were ruined financially and homes wrecked in Missouri, after the companies withdrew, and property was destroyed by fire, upon which owners were unable to secure insurance, and we know that the same conditions will follow here; therefore when ruin, desolation and despair come to our people, by reason of this law, we want them to know where to put the blame and we do not believe they will be slow in doing it. It is our prediction that those who advocated and had passed this measure, will see the day, not far distant, when they will deeply regret having taken such action.

The premiums and losses for the past five years, not including 1913, are as follows:

Year.	Premiums.	Losses.	Ratio.
1908	$4,214,844	$2,837,174	67.2
1909	4,648,220	2,587,889	55.1
1910	4,610,772	1,987,385	43.1
1911	5,004,174	3,436,687	68.6
1912	4,996,190	3,228,259	64.7
Average loss ratio			59.7
Average expense ratio			42.0

Total loss and expense ... 101.7

(The black face lines in the above are mine; merely put in to more fully emphasize my own, personal opinion in regard to the article).

It is hard for me to write more. One may readily appreciate my feelings to see the work of nearly three-quarters of a century torn down—and for political purposes; that the Four Year residents of Frankfort may continue in their good offices. A business handed down to me by my father; carried on by me—I hope to the utmost satisfaction of the people who have favored me with their confidence and their business—for nearly fifty years and which I had hoped to hand on down to other generations of Hoffman's.

Frankfort—the capitol of Kentucky.

Phil Sheridan said: "If I owned Texas and Hell, I'd rent Texas and live in Hell."

If I owned Frankfort and Hell I would rent out Frankfort.

I can only now issue a word of caution to my patrons:

Guard against fire with redoubled care. Your present insurance would be collected without trouble, (who ever heard of ANYONE insured with Hoffman HAVING trouble?) BUT no new insurance in companies I would recommend, could be secured to protect rebuilding or new stock purchased.

Gratefully yours,
A. Hoffman.

BIDS NOT ACCEPTED

Several bids were filed last week on the work of reconstructing the Maysville pike between this city and Sharpsburg, but all were rejected as the lowest one was several thousand dollars more than the amount that is to be expended. The government officials ordered same advertised again and are now busy making some changes in the specifications. The Clark County Construction Co., of Winchester, was the lowest bidder and we hope are fortunate enough to secure the work when it is done. This company has just completed a road job in Virginia which is said to be a very fine one.

USING DIRIGIBLES IN WAR

Italy Has Two in Tripoli and May Employ Them to Bombard Constantinople.

Italy, which was the first nation to make use of aeroplanes in actual warfare, is also the first to experiment with dirigibles under the same conditions.

The great boom in aeroplanes has for a time at least rather put dirigibles out of public favor. Besides, the mishaps that have wrecked almost all the Zeppelins built in Germany have tended to make them unpopular. For another thing dirigibles are too slow to satisfy the modern craze for speed.

But Italy has sent to Tripoli two new dirigibles of the rigid type, which have been put together and inflated. They are of over 5,000 cubic yards' capacity and has a speed of about 30 miles an hour.

Now rumor credits the Italian balloonists with the plan of establishing on Lemnos or some other island a balloon depot, from which dirigibles might make raids upon the Dardanelles and drop bombs in Constantinople itself.

To do this from a great height would not be difficult, the mark is so large. It is said that the Italian authorities rely greatly upon the moral effect the dropping of these bombs would have.

Oh you Spring Lamb and Country Ham, only at Greenwade's. Phone 100.

Growth of Eucalyptus.

In a period of ten years the Eucalyptus tree will grow 12 inches in diameter and 90 feet in height, while it will take white oak and hickory 90 to 100 years to attain the same growth, and other hardwoods, such as walnut, will take 50 to 60 years to attain the same size; this in itself is a tremendous advantage, and together with the fact that it reproduces itself from the same stump, makes it of special commercial value.

CHINESE MARRIAGE.

Marriages in China are celebrated at the home of the bridegroom, not of the bride, says a writer in the May Wide World Magazine. Before quitting her own house the bride is arrayed in her best dress and jewels, her hair is elaborately arranged and she wears a large hat. A mantle is then thrown about her head and a red silk cloth is placed over her face. Her mother then puts her in a gilt sedan chair, used only for weddings, and locks her in, giving the key to one of the attendants, who delivers it to the bridegroom when the procession arrives at the latter's home. No priest or magistrate officiates at the marriage. The happy pair, the bride still veiled, enters the ancestral hall together and bow three times to the family tablets, afterward sitting down to a table on which are two cups of wine—an offering intended to propitiate the ancestors of the family. They next enter the reception chamber, where the husband removes the veil and mantle from his wife, seeing her face, perhaps, for the first time. The guests and friends then enter the room, gaze upon the blushing bride and convey their felicitations to the happy pair. A wedding banquet is held in the evening, at which the bride, very tactfully, pays especial attention to her parents-in-law.

AFTER COUGHING TWO YEARS

Waycross, Ga., Woman Found Relief in Vinol.

Did you ever cough for a week? Then just think how distressing it must be to have a cough hang on for two years.

Mrs. D. A. McGee, Waycross, Ga., says: "I had a very heavy cold which settled into a chronic cough which kept me awake nights for fully two years, and felt tired all the time. The effect of taking your cod liver and iron remedy, Vinol, is that my cough is gone. I can now get a good night's rest and I feel much stronger in every way. I am 74 years old."

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cod's livers aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so efficient for chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

P. S.—If you have any skin trouble try Sazo Salve. We guarantee it. W. S. Lloyd, druggist, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

AMERICAN TOBACCO INDUSTRY SPECIALIZED

Each important tobacco district of the United States produces a type of tobacco for special purposes of manufacture or export. The methods of growing and handling a crop must vary according to the type of leaf desired, and therefore according to the particular districts where it is grown. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has just issued a bulletin on "tobacco culture" which recommends methods for the production of various American types.

The bulletin emphasizes the fact that over-production is a constant menace in all the established centers of tobacco growing and that the development of the industry in new sections on a large scale is hardly advisable. Another reason why tobacco culture in untried sections may result in failure is that the leaf produced will not be quite right in type, and therefore it will not find a satisfactory market.

The commercial value of tobacco is influenced to a greater degree by particular soil and climatic conditions than is that of almost any other important crop. This has caused the industry to become highly specialized and the trade looks regularly to well-defined areas for the various types of leaf it requires.

As tobacco grows readily over so large an area it is not strange that many farmers experiment with it and often secure seeming success. That is, the plants grow readily but when it comes time to sell the crop the farmer can find no market.

"I have grown five acres of tobacco," a farmer writes from a district where tobacco is not grown for the commercial trade. "But there seems to be no market. Can the Department of Agriculture help me?"

The Department can only advise this farmer that conditions are such that even though his product appear to be of good quality he will probably be unable to market it, as the trade does not recognize his section as a tobacco-producing area. Here we have the difference emphasized between tobacco and a crop like corn for which a market may readily be found no matter where it is grown if the quality is good.

There are three general classes of tobacco described in the new bulletin:

- (1) Cigar tobaccos.
- (2) Export tobaccos.
- (3) Manufacturing tobaccos.

By manufacturing tobaccos are meant all types used in manufacture other than cigars. The manufacturing and export classes however, have much in common as regards cultural methods, and some types are used for manufacturing and for export; therefore these two classes are considered together as distinguished from the cigar tobaccos.

Each of these three classes of tobacco may be sub-divided into types, depending on their special uses, methods of growing and curing, or on the variety of seed used. In the case of cigar tobaccos there are three principal types, corresponding to the three parts of the cigar—wrapper leaf, binder leaf, and filler leaf. In the manufacturing and export tobaccos are such types as the flue-cured, Virginia sun-cured, White Burley, dark fire-cured, etc. These various types are produced on certain special types of soil and according to definite methods of growing, curing and handling the crop. In some cases the variety of seed used is also an important factor. The special uses of the principal types embraced in the three fundamental classes of tobacco are brought out in connection with the cultural directions for the more important types.

A typical district for the culture of cigar tobaccos is the Connecticut valley. The new bulletin outlines briefly the best cultural methods for this region. Detailed instructions are given on care of the seed bed, preparing and fertilizing the land, transplanting and cultivating, and harvesting.

The export and manufacturing types of tobaccos are grown mainly in Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, West Virginia, Southern Ohio and South-eastern Indiana. Best methods for the culture of the various types are explained in the new bulletin.

Insect Enemies of Tobacco.
One of the most trouble and expensive features of tobacco culture, particularly in the southern districts, is the control of numerous insects, which if not combated would often times completely destroy the commercial value of the crop. Among the more important insects attacking the tobacco plant may be mentioned the tobacco flea-bettle, the tobacco "wire-worm," cutworms, the hornworms, or "green worms" and the tobacco bud-worm. Of these the hornworms, or "green worms," are usually the most destructive.

For detailed information regarding insects attacking tobacco and methods of combating them, the reader is referred to Farmers' Bulletin 120, entitled "The Principal Insects Affecting the Tobacco Plant." The new bulletin "Tobacco Culture" is Farmers' Bulletin 571, and either of these publications may be obtained free by application to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

NO EXTRA SESSION FOR NSURANCE BILL

Governor McCreary will not call an extra session of the Legislature to consider the repeal of the Greene-Glenn insurance bill.

He made that statement last week to delegations of business men from Louisville and Lexington who went to Frankfort requesting him to call the special session for that purpose. The Governor said that he had made a careful poll of the Legislature and found that the members were determined that the bill was to the best interests of the State and would not change their votes if the session was called. He added that it would cost at least $100,000 to hold a special session and that it would be money uselessly spent, inasmuch as they would not consider a repeal of the bill.

John W. Barr, president of the Fidelity and Columbia Trust Company; F. W. Gettys, president of the Kentucky Bankers' Association, and Pendleton Beckley, solicitor for Louisville representing Mayor Bushmeyer; R. Laffoon, Chairman of the State Rating Board; Fred Levy, president of the Retail Merchants' Association; Noel Gaines and Senator Glenn, author of the bill, spoke at the conference at which 300 business men of Louisville and Lexington attended.

The bankers and business men made it plain that they were not representing or aiding the insurance companies but that they must have insurance. They contended that conditions had arisen making the repeal of the bill a necessity.

Laffoon contended that the insurance companies must be regulated and Glenn said that the only difference between the board and the insurance companies was that the Rating Board demanded an itemized statement showing the rates and that the insurance companies refused to submit the statements.

DON'T

Don't marry the old folks, or let them marry you.

Don't marry one in whom you have not perfect confidence.

Don't marry much above or below your social sphere.

Don't forget that mutual forbearance is the touchstone of domestic happiness.

Don't marry unless you love and unless guarded by reason and judgment.

Don't expect that love will come after marriage, where it does not exist before marriage, for all experience proves it will not.

Don't marry for beauty alone, for it may perish in a single night, and, unless accompanied by loveliness of spirit, it is only a mantle of vanity, selfishness and ill temper.

"Then My Old Kentucky Home, Good Night," so wrote Foster. So sang the members of the General Assembly. It was fitting. They had just completed a sixty-day session, in which they had "done their darndest" to make it good night for the old Kentucky Home.—Louisville Evening Times.

SUCCUMBS TO OPERATION

Miss Mary Cockrell, the twenty year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cockrell, of Camargo, this county, died at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lexington Tuesday night. She underwent an operation for appendicitis about three weeks ago and was recovering splendidly when complications set in, resulting in peritonitis.

The body was brought to this city yesterday and taken to the home of her parents. The funeral services will be held at the residence this morning at 10:30 and interment in Machpelah. Her charming personality and lovely manner had endeared her deeply in the hearts of all who knew her, and her death is deeply regretted by her many friends and relatives.

Besides her parents, she is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Wesley Wheeler, Misses Ella and Sallie Cockrell, and three brothers, William, Jeff and Frank, all of this county, to whom the sympathy of all go out in their bereavement.

PARCELS POST

DEVELOPMENT

The "farm products post" which Postmaster General Burleson has established in the first and second parcel post zones, should have a stimulating effect on the shipment of farm products by mail.

Under the new regulations boxes and crates of eggs, butter, vegetables and dressed poultry will be carried outside the mail bags and delivered to city consumers. The weight limits on such packages are from twenty to fifty pounds. Packages under twenty pounds will be carried in mail bags as heretofore. The Post Office Department describes the new arrangement as a "boon to truckers." It should prove also something of a boon to consumers.

As a medium for bringing the producer and consumer in closer touch this extension of the parcel post should meet with larger public favor. By utilizing the mails the farmer can cut out much of the expense of going to market. By seeking customers in the city he can secure better prices than he can get from the country storekeeper or from such other buyers as may be available. The consumer at the same time should be able to save some money for himself, inasmuch as the parcel post method eliminates the middleman and the several profits which are exacted where a product is subjected to repeated handling.

One of the needs of the whole country is more direct marketing. This is possible through the parcel post. City customers will not be lacking when the farmer lets the city people know what he has to sell. This he can do at slight expense by newspaper advertising. The development of the "farm products post," if it shall develop as successfully as the Post Office Department hopes, will be of all-around benefit.

WAY TO FIGHT FLIES

A resident of Omaha, who recently returned from a visit to Cuba, asserts that during a stay of twelve days in Havana he did not see a fly or a mosquito.

Primarily the condition is due to the effective sanitary measures that were adopted subsequent to the Spanish-American War. Under American occupation Havana was given a most thorough cleaning up by Col. W. C. Gorgas and his co-workers of the Public Health Service. The work has been followed up. The elimination of flies and mosquitoes is made possible by continuous efforts against the breeding places of these pests. Havana has 360 sanitary inspectors. Lime and petroleum are used day in and day out in the treatment of ponds, cesspools, muck heaps and other places where flies and mosquitoes have their origin.

These thorough methods have made Havana a healthful city—remarkably so when compared with its record prior to the cleaning up campaign waged by Col. Gorgas and his associates. From one of the most unclean cities in the world Havana has come to be one of the best kept cities. Killing flies and mosquitoes in Cuba is an all-the-year-around job. Havana slays these pests in the embryo and therefore does not have to urge its citizens to wield the swatter. The process of swatting is unnecessary because the flies are killed in the shell, so to speak, Havana having decided sensibly that prevention is the best remedy for the evil.

The season is approaching in the United States when the health bulletins will be laden with advice about the pestiferous and dangerous fly. Thousands of people will begin to swat whenever the enemy makes his appearance and many of these same people will be tolerating nuisances in the shape of unsanitary stables or other nuisances which will breed a thousand flies to take the place of the one incautious fly which perished under the swatter.

The new spring stock of shoes of the Berry Co. is almost a total loss while the damage to the building is not great. The origin of the fire is unknown. STATE WIDE BILL DEAD

The Webb state-wide prohibition bill died in the Senate last week, but the dry people won a victory when the Tunis bill under which it is possible for the cities of Kentucky to lift the present charge for licenses for saloons from $500 to 1,000 or over was passed in the House, having already passed the Senate. That the Governor will sign it seems to be a foregone conclusion. The State-wide bill passed the House last Thursday by a vote of 60 to 32 but the Senate refused to put the measure on its passage by a vote of 18 to 15. Senator Clay voted against bringing the bill out.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The seventh and eighth grades held their "Library Society" in the chapel Friday, March 20th. The program was very good and a number of distinguished visitors were present.

The City High School debating committee were the guests of our committee Thursday evening, the 19th. The committees must have debated the question submitted between themselves as it was late in the afternoon when they left the building. We were sorry we were deprived of hearing the debate. We afterwards learned that the committees were engaged in some very warm discussions, which we fear will terminate in the debate being called off.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(By Courtney Horton)

At the regular bi-monthly awarding of the Hoffman Medal in Chapel Tuesday morning, March 17th, Reid Prewitt, of the third grade, was the successful contestant.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the "Purple and Old Gold" literary society was held in Chapel Friday afternoon, March 21st.

At a recent meeting of the boys of the High School it was decided to organize a baseball and track team. As preliminary steps Russell DeHaven and Warren Robertson were chosen as captains of the respective teams. Prof. Jetton was chosen as business manager of both groups and will also help in getting the men into the proper condition. As soon as the weather will permit the boys will begin work in earnest and it is expected that exceptionally good teams will be rounded out.

Despite the fact that a hitch took place in the arrangements for the inter-school debate, the details were patched up by means of the city school yielding to the demands of the countryites. The debate will certainly take place in the city school chapel, some time during the third week of April. The county school has decided to base their expatiations, on the negative side of the question submitted by the city school.

A number of county teachers were visitors at our literary society meeting Friday afternoon.

The Glee Club, of State University will give a concert in the High School chapel on Friday evening, April 3rd, under the auspices of the Boys' Club of Mt. Sterling High School.
